DEAR EDUCATORS,

Every year, we see thousands of students, teachers and parents—traveling from as far as 250 miles in some cases—pour through our gates for field trips at the Baton Rouge Zoo. And I’m happy to say that those numbers, as well as our geographic reach, continue to grow annually.

Our mission is to connect people with animals and we make every effort to realize that in every education program we offer. Today, more than ever, it is crucial that our young people develop an understanding, appreciation and respect for our natural resources and surroundings. There are many species living in our Zoo whose existence in the wild depends on it. What better way to do this than to get a firsthand look at one of nature’s animal ambassadors?

Whether you come every year, or are receiving this guide for the first time, I’d like to strongly encourage you to make the trip to the Baton Rouge Zoo.

Phil Frost, Director
GENERAL INFORMATION

Trip Tips

Come explore wildlife in nature’s own classroom! Whether you register for one of our programs during your visit or follow your own itinerary, your trip is sure to be a memorable and educational one.

To schedule your trip to the Zoo, please go to www.brzoo.org and complete a field trip request form. Forms must be submitted at least two weeks in advance, as reservations are required and dates fill up quickly! No classes or schools will be admitted without a reservation. After scheduling your trip, our staff will send you an email confirming the date and provided additional information for your group’s arrival. In order to expedite the admission process, please bring this confirmation with you when you visit.

The Zoo is very popular in spring. Fall and winter offer many unique viewing opportunities without the crowds.

Let us be the teachers for the day! Sign your class up for an Ed-ZOO-cation Program. Programs are offered three times daily and meet the current benchmarks set forth by the Louisiana Science Framework.

Show off your school colors and stay visible by wearing adhesive tags with your school name on them. Please do not use strings or pins on your nametags as they may end up in animal enclosures.

The Zoo remains open during inclement weather, so we do not offer refunds or rain-checks. Bring your umbrellas and ponchos for cloudy days—the animals actually tend to be more active on cool cloudy days than on hot sunny days!

School groups are not allowed to bring outside food into the Zoo. If you’d like to bring your own lunches, picnic areas are available in the adjoining Greenwood and Clark parks. For your safety, we ask that you please not picnic in the Zoo’s parking lot.

ADOPT-AN-ANIMAL

With our Adopt-an-Animal program, your class can be a parent and more to any of the animals at the Baton Rouge Zoo! Your donation not only allows you special benefits that only our adoptive parents enjoy, but also helps our animals. All proceeds from the Adopt-an-Animal program benefit your Baton Rouge Zoo and our commitment to various conservation efforts.

About Adoption

All animal adoptions are good for one year and are renewable.

If the animal you would like to adopt is not listed, please contact us. Due to their popularity, some animals may be adopted concurrently.

All adopted animals remain in the care and custody of the Baton Rouge Zoo.

Because zoo animals are living creatures, they can become ill, die, be moved off exhibit or to other facilities. The Zoo retains the right to remove any animal from public display. If your adopted animal leaves the Zoo, dies or is moved off exhibit, your gift will still be used and appreciated for the remainder of your adoption year.

Adoption is easy!

1. CHOOSE AN ANIMAL
Browse through the collection of animals on our website at brzoo.org. Click on an animal you’d like to learn more about and choose one to adopt.

2. CHOOSE AN ADOPTION LEVEL
Different levels of donation offer different levels of adoptive parent benefits!

3. PLACE YOUR ORDER
Print out and send in our mail-in form with your payment or submit your order online.
